Fire Brings More Evacuations in California Area

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sheriff's officers started evacuating residents in the lower end of Arroyo Seco Canyon as a foothill brush fire today moved toward suburban communities north of Los Angeles.

The fire, believed caused by a reckless flip of a cigarette, has covered about 3,000 acres of watershed along a 30-mile perimeter.

The blaze is about a mile from the town of Altadena, north of Pasadena. This was on the southeastern front of the flames.

On the northern perimeter, the blaze made another major breakthrough as it seared 500 acres of a picnic area known as Oakwilde and raced toward Angeles Crest Highway, a major thoroughfare.

Although the winds had subsided in the fire area, prospects for controlling the blaze still were dim.

One county fire captain said: "It looks like it'll take a couple of days at least. We haven't had much rain at all the last few years and I've never seen the brush so dry."

"This stuff doesn't burn—it explodes."

Only a few homes had been damaged since the fire broke out Tuesday along Angeles Crest Highway above the foothill suburb of La Canada. But flames were only a mile or so from other expensive homes today, and a burst of the whimsical wind could put them in genuine peril.

Families were standing by for a possible evacuation of Briggs Terrace, an area above the community of La Crescenta and about 15 miles north of downtown Los Angeles.

Several hundred persons, including actor Dennis Morgan, were driven from their homes above La Canada Tuesday night. The $100,000 mansion of contractor Guy D. Atkinson was listed as 50 per cent lost and several other homes were less seriously damaged.

Southeast of La Canada, the fire was headed toward Altadena, above Pasadena, but homes there were not in immediate danger. Flames were about a mile from Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, but the space research facility was not in jeopardy.

The Pictures

TOP PHOTO — CHARLEY BATSON of Garland Elementary School is the ball carrier in this opening-quarter shot of the Garland-Paisley football game at 4:40 Wednesday afternoon in K Park — a game which Garland won 37 to 0. Behind Batson is Garland's Dennis Ramsey. Official is Charles Gough, who with Ed Aslin is handling the elementary grid games.

COMMENT BY THE EDITOR: By the grapevine from the No-Sweat Guys I hear some beefing because Garland has two sixth-grade classes while Paisley and Brookwood have but one. The sixth-grade furnishes most of the football players — but naturally, being the oldest class they are usually the biggest and fiercest. The beefing proceeds naturally out of the fact that Garland has now thrashed both Brookwood (13-0) and Paisley (37-0).

BUT THE EDITOR'S OWN experience yesterday is not controversial. I needed a spotter to tell me which team had the ball in each photograph. I approached a dozen kids — a duke's mixture of Garland and Paisley boys — and explained what I needed. I was greeted by a strained silence. "What's the matter?" I asked. "You can write, can't you?" "Yes," one of the boys replied. "but we can't spell 'Paisley'."

SO WE SETTLED IT THIS way: Picture No. 1, and the boy put down GA for Garland, or PA for Paisley. Sounds like that old-time musical, "Ja-Da!" But I imagine the teachers are going to be all stirred up — and everybody will know how to spell "Paisley" before next Wednesday's game. (Note to spotter: There is a shotgun order to make sure you don't goof on "Paisley" or we'll both have to leave town.)

Governor Faubus to Be Main Speaker at Dedication of the Arkla Village on Saturday

EMMETT — Arkansas' Gov. Orval E. Faubus will be the principal speaker at the formal dedication of Arkla Village here Saturday. It was announced today. A crowd of 2,000 is expected.

Arkla Industries, operators of the unique, new southwest Arkansas industry and tourist attraction, said in revealing final arrangements for the gala opening that the Governor and his party will arrive shortly before the dedication ceremony, scheduled for High Noon.

Other prominent officials to be present are Sam Robinson, associate justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court, who will act as master of ceremonies for the dedication; Ramey Garland, mayor of Emmet; Judge Pleas Orren of Nevada County and Judge U. G. Garrett of Hempstead County.

Those representing Arkla and Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., of which Arkla is a subsidiary, will be W. R. Stephens, president and chairman of the gas company; D. W. Wehr, executive vice president; L. E. Walbridge, vice president of Arkla; and Ben Harding, manager of Arkla Village.

The Rev. Dewey L. McCauley, pastor of the Emmet Methodist Church, will deliver the dedication invocation, while Rev. Raymond Lawrence, pastor of the Emmet Baptist Church, will give the benediction.

Elizabeth Wake of Emmet, who recently was crowned queen of the Nevada County Fair, will be official hostess for the dedication as well as for the arena show which will follow.

Arkla also announced that Ray Lawrence, prominent Hope cattle dealer and former manager of the Hope Chamber of Commerce, will be master of ceremonies and ringmaster for the arena show, which will start about 1:30 p.m. It will feature a horseback riding exhibition by more than 60 riders, music by the Hope and Prescott High School bands, a pony and dog act, and a "fast draw" contest with toy weapons for children 10 years old and under with silver dollars as prizes.

Others who have aided in the planning for Saturday's dedication are Terrell Cornelius, well known Hope businessman and livestock and horse show promoter and Cliff Bridges, Hope manager for the gas company.

State Judges to Rule on Dollarway

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Orders are expected soon transferring the Little Rock and Dollarway school integration cases to newly appointed Arkansas federal judges.

Legal sources speculated that Judge J. Smith Henley would be assigned the Dollarway case and Judge Gordon E. Young the Little Rock case.

However, Henley said that this was yet to be worked out.

Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith, the other Arkansas federal judge, has jurisdiction over the Little Rock case.

Judge Axel J. Beck of Elk Point, S.D., had jurisdiction over the Dollarway case while he was on temporary assignment in Arkansas, but he since has been relieved of this assignment.

The transfers are likely because of Beck's transfer and Miller's position as judge of Arkansas' Western District while the integration cases are in the Eastern District, served by Young and Henley.

Miller was assigned the Little Rock case because there was no permanent judge assigned in the Eastern District when latest motions were filed.

Henley said that "I know no reason why we shouldn't try all the cases in our district. That's what we're here for."

Pending in the Little Rock case is a motion by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People asking the court to void the Little Rock school board's pupil placement plan of integration. Miller recently postponed a hearing on this motion and no new hearing date has been set.

Action in the Dollarway case has been delayed pending application by the Dollarway School Board of the pupil placement laws. The 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals recently overturned an order by Beck directing admission of three Negroes to the Dollarway School. The appeals court told the Negroes to apply for admission under pupil placement laws before returning to court.

Urges Both Sides in Steel Strike to Resume Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of President Eisenhower's inquiry panel on the steel strike today urged the industry and union to resume direct negotiations and seek an agreement before Sunday.

Both the industry and union seemed to accept the suggestion made by panel Chairman George W. Taylor at the windy of the panel's hearings. But no immediate negotiating arrangements were made.

The nation wants a settlement soon of the damaging strike, Taylor lectured both sides.

He said that if they are unable to reach agreement by negotiation, they should consider submitting their differences to arbitration, or a decision by outside neutrals.

R. Conrad Cooper, U.S. Steel Corp. executive, and Union President David J. McDonald replied that they preferred negotiations rather than arbitration.

Taylor said there are two main road blocks thwarting a settlement.

He said these are the work rule changes demanded by the industry, designed to promote operating economy, and the matter of wage and benefit increases for the strikers.

Newsman asked McDonald, during a recess in hearings by president Eisenhower's inquiry board, whether there was any basis for optimism as to a settlement.

"No," McDonald said. "Everything is status quo."

Earlier, as the industry resumed presenting its side of the tangled labor dispute, Chairman George

Civil Rights Group May Expand Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Rights Commission, entering its third year, may expand operations to investigate discrimination in employment and justice.

But its main focus will continue on the fields of voting, housing and education, Chairman John A. Hannah said yesterday after the commission met for the first time since Congress extended its life for two years.

Hannah also said that the commission voted to ask the Justice Department to appeal quickly from the recent decision of a three-judge federal court in Louisiana. The decision said the commission had used unconstitutional procedures in hearings on discrimination against negro voting in Louisiana.

Vice Chairman Robert G. Storer said the commission would schedule no more hearings there until the Supreme Court has ruled on the appeal from the decision.

W. Taylor of the inquiry panel had told a reporter he was "not without hope" for a settlement that would avert resort to a Taft-Hartley law injunction.

McDonald was asked by reporters whether there was any room for compromise over the industry's demand for more highway to make changes in local work rules and effect manpower economies.

Saying the union will never budge in its refusal to accept such changes, McDonald added: "It is as it is—period. I've said any change would be over my dead body. I don't know how I can make it any stronger than that."

The union chief added that "nobody is going to have a goddamn blackchip over my boys."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's chief fact finder said today he is "not without hope" for a settlement of the steel strike that will avert use of a Taft-Hartley law injunction.

George W. Taylor, chairman of President Eisenhower's steel inquiry board, made that comment to a reporter as industry representatives resumed presenting their side of the deadlocked labor dispute to Taylor's three-man panel.

In effect, Taylor was saying he thought it possible a settlement could be reached this weekend. The panel is to make a report to Eisenhower on Monday. Once it reports, the way will be cleared for the government to turn to the courts and ask for an order directing that the 500,000 striking workers go back to work for an 80-day cooling off period.

Such orders are authorized by the Taft-Hartley law.

Eisenhower granted the panel an extra three days for its work—moving the deadline for the board to submit a report to the White House, from Friday to Monday.

The panel conferred separately with the industry and union Wednesday night. Taylor was expected to announce a summary of the strike issues—the areas that need to be resolved before any agreement can be reached—at the close of formal hearings today.

The striking Steelworkers Union concluded its version of the strike issues late Tuesday.

Today was the 93rd day of the Plymouth Features Economy for 1960

The 1960 Plymouth is the strongest, quietest, fastest accelerating, most economical operating car in Plymouth's history. It features unified body and frame structure and completely new styling for this economy champion. Two completely new engines are added in the 1960 Plymouth line of six engines, each of uniquely different design and each developed to fulfill a specific requirement. The 30-D Economy Six, with 145 horsepower, is introduced for drivers who require maximum fuel savings. The SonoRamic Commando V-8, with 330 horsepower, which brings ram induction to passenger cars for the first time, is primarily a "performance" engine with outstanding acceleration characteristics.

Errol Flynn, Actor, Dies in Canada

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Errol Flynn, whose real-life adventures often outdid his swash-buckling movie roles, died Wednesday night in an apartment where he had dropped in for a drink. He apparently suffered a heart attack.

"He died laughing," said Mrs. George Caldwell, Flynn's hostess during a visit here. "He was having a good time and enjoying himself."

The graying, 50-year-old actor was en route to the airport with Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell and his 17-year-old protegee Beverly Aadland.

"We just dropped in to see some friends for a cocktail," Mrs. Caldwell said.

She said he complained of a pain in the back and the doctor they were visiting took him into another room for relief. He lost consciousness while the doctor was out of the room for a moment, she said.

An inhalator crew worked over Flynn for 37 minutes and then he was taken by ambulance to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Miss Aadland, who rode to the hospital in the ambulance, was placed under sedation.

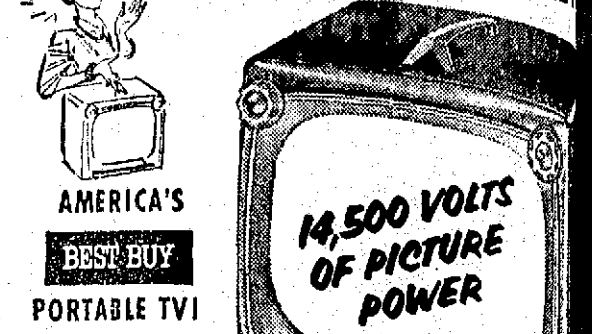

"Women," said Flynn on his arrival here six days ago, "well, that speaks for itself. I like young women, because they give you a feeling of youth." He came to negotiate for the sale of his $100,000 yacht that Mr. Caldwell reportedly was interested in the luxury vessel.

Flynn's dashing manner both on and off the screen raised the blood pressure of feminine male rivals. It also headlines — headlines wanted to avoid. "The search for a been my true failure strike—the longest in the industry's history.

Steel industry witnesses were scheduled to present today an elaboration of their testimony that the union's demands confront the nation with a fateful decision—to "accept another inflationary wage increase in steel, or to go without steel."

George W. Taylor, chairman of the fact finders, indicated his belief that the mediation outlook had brightened somewhat.

John A. Morse of Bethlehem Steel said Wednesday the industry is not adamant on how labor cost economies desired by the mills are to be achieved. And Union President David J. McDonald said the steelworkers' economic demands also are susceptible to bargaining.

On Tuesday Taylor had said it would be "a miracle of the very first order" if a settlement is achieved this week. Announcing his request for a delay in the report to the White House, he indicated he holds hope of a voluntary agreement.

"Naturally our aim is to avoid filing any report at all," he told reporters. Only a settlement, or reasonably bright prospects of one, would eliminate that necessity.

Taylor said some progress has been made toward defining the strike issues. He announced there would be an unusual open session of the fact-finding board Sunday.

ANNOUNCING THE NEW PLYMOUTH

SOLID FOR '60! AT YOUR DEALER'S TOMORROW!

BUILT A NEW SOLID WAY TO GIVE YOU SOLID SATISFACTION

CHRYSLER ENGINEERING INTRODUCES A NEW KIND OF PLYMOUTH THAT MARKS A MAJOR BREAKTHROUGH IN CAR DESIGN. BODY AND FRAME UNIT ARE WELDED TOGETHER AS ONE, IN A NEW WAY. MANY PARTS THAT WORK LOOSE, RATTLE AND NEED FIXING IN ORDINARY CARS ARE ELIMINATED. THIS LOW-PRICE '60 PLYMOUTH IS STRONGER AND ROOMIER. IT USES LESS GAS THAN BEFORE. IT RIDES MORE COMFORTABLY, WE BELIEVE, THAN ANY OTHER CAR IN ITS CLASS.

PLYMOUTH'S NEW DURA-QUIET UNIBODY is a rigidly-formed structure, locked by approximately 5400 precise welds. It has no conventional body bolts, braces, struts or stays to give trouble. Road noises and road shocks are dampened. Even the sound of the wind is hushed.

We doubt if any car at any price has ever ridden or handled as well as this new low-price automobile. Practical Stabilizer Design, incorporating rear stabilizer fins, adds stability on the road, cuts wind resistance, gives better gas mileage.

The new Solid Plymouth is a young, exciting car with ten full years of Chrysler Corporation development behind it. It will suit you particularly if you want a feeling of quality and a sense of craftsmanship. It is built carefully and precisely. We believe there is no other car in the low-price field that resembles it.

AN ALL-NEW INCLINED OVER-HEAD VALVE "6" IS AMONG FIVE PLYMOUTH ENGINE OPTIONS FOR 1960. The first inclined engine ever in an American passenger car is the new Plymouth 30-D Economy Six, most powerful "6" in America. Very economical, it is inclined to make servicing simpler, to lower the car's center of gravity and to make handling and riding easier. Also for 1960: the limited-production SonoRamic Commando V-8*.

SOLID PLYMOUTH 1960 OFFERS FEATURES NO OTHER CAR IN ITS CLASS CAN OFFER. Custom-Positioned Front Seat, Safe-T-Matic doorlocking system*, RCA "45" Record Player*. And many more.

DOROTHY DIX

It Takes a Special
Degree to Be Boring

By DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix: Your columns are filled with problems revolving around unfaithful husbands, drinking, jealousy, etc., but another major problem I have discovered is the "do nothing" husband. My man has two university degrees, makes a terrific salary, is always home, seldom gets angry, but in every other way is completely blah. I find myself doing everything for the family from Cub Scouts to moving the grass and spreading compost. My husband willingly stays home with the children while I attend P.T.A. meetings, do Christmas shopping, buy anniversary gifts for his family or take part in community activities that should be his job. I've about given up arranging social evenings at home because he's too uninterested to help out. He comes home, reads the paper from front page through classified ads then condescends to give his family a few minutes. He refuses to admit there's a problem, says it's my imagination. I'm still in my 30's and don't feel like retiring from the human race at this stage of life. Occasionally I give way to self-pity, but not often. I've reached the point, however, where I'm finally admitting I can't scale the brick wall. An acute case of defeatism, I guess. Maybe this seems like a small problem compared to some you meet up with, and I guess there's really no solution anyway. Maybe you can think of something, though. — Leona G.

Dear Leona: If you can't scale the brick wall, you can at least spread a blanket and have a pleasant picnic in its shade. The problem certainly exists, there's absolutely no chance of changing your husband, so the only alternative is to accept his peculiarities and live with them. Whatever you do, don't let yourself down. Keep up your health, appearance, interest in life and in whatever activities your community offers. Socially, you're a lone woman so why not find another gal who is REALLY alone (a widow or an unmarried woman) and make a twosome with her. When you separate at the end of an evening, and you see her going to a lonesome home where no one is willing for her while you return to a complete family, the last vestige of self-pity will depart. Knowing that a husband is at home is a consolation many other women would like to have.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My son is planning to give his girl a cedar chest. I've been told that this is wrong because the chest should be given by a member of her family. — Myrtle

Dear Myrtle: The romantic custom of a boy giving his girl a "hope chest" is being revived. Today, they're called sweetheart chests and are especially designed to become part of the new home furnishings. I'm sure the girl will appreciate the gesture which is entirely fitting and proper.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Can you suggest any written material that would help us guide a teen-age daughter after she's spent some time in a state institution? We want to have her accepted by the community and to rebuild a circle of friends. — D. D.

Dear D. D.: I don't know of any specific literature covering your problem but the matron at the institution should be able to help you. I have a list of books for general guidance of the adolescent. These would be helpful in handling some of the problems that will come up concerning your child. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the leaflet, "Dealing with the Adolescent."

Field Goal and Extra Points May Play a Key Part

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — It was a strange little group that gathered on the University of Arkansas practice field last night. Some passers by might have thought it a group of fraternity boys in an evening rite.

But it wasn't. It was the Freddy Akers fan club.

Of course, all the members of the club weren't there. Just a few, like Frank Broussard and Dixie White, the Arkansas head and assistant coaches, and quarterbacks George McKinney and James Monroe. And some of the red-shirt football players.

And Freddy.

The 166 pound halfback was getting his big toe ready for Saturday night's meeting with Texas at Memorial Stadium in Little Rock.

He actually was kicking field goals in the dark.

And he did a pretty good job. He kicked four in a row from the 25 yard line, then moved all over the field, stepping and booting, stepping and booting.

The redshirts stood on the other side of the goalposts to catch the footballs and tell Freddy whether the kicks were accurate.

And accurate most of them were. He tried some from the 45 and they went straight at the uprights, but fell about five yards short. He also kicked a few dozen extra points.

Just for practice.

When he finally quit it was so dark you couldn't even see the goalposts.

"He was kicking by instinct," said McKinney, who took turns with Monroe holding the placements.

Broyles was well-satisfied. He had given Freddy a special shoe earlier in the day, one with a square toe and a built-up front end. He hopes it will make Freddy's toe comfortable.

Because that toe has been Arkansas' vaulting pole in both its conference victories. He beat TCU 2-0 with a field goal, then unrivaled a 7-7 deadlock with another three-pointer down at Waco against Baylor that made it 10-7 and the Hogs went on to win, 23-7.

Broyles thinks the kid from Fayetteville might have a chance to do some toe-ing against Texas. That's why the long practice.

The Hogs also worked on their punting and quick kicking yesterday. And they underwent contact drills against Texas' offense and defense.

Now they'll begin tapering off for the big one with the Longhorns. It's going to be a 40,000 seat sell-out.

Hope Kittens Down Juniors at Nashville

Hope Junior High School Bob-kittens ruined the baby Scrappers' homecoming last night at Nashville by soundly trouncing them 13 to 0.

Coach Gordon Beasley's Bob-kittens racked up their fourth consecutive win in convincing fashion and remain undefeated for the year.

Hope dominated play during the first quarter with Nashville getting off only three running plays, those being in their own end of the field. The second quarter was all Hope, third on even terms, with the Cats again dominating fourth quarter play.

Midway of the second quarter, Dan Jones, Kitten center, recovered a Scraper fumble on the 10 yard line and on fourth down Jerry Pate went over right tackle six yards for the only score of the first half. Line plunge for extra point try failed.

In the fourth, end Earl Ray Murphy of the Kittens received a fumbled Scraper punt on the 30 yard line. Following with two first downs, Porterfield went around the end for ten yards and the final Hope TD. Roy Wray plunged for the extra point bringing the score to 13 to 0.

Nashville entered the game holding victories over Ashdown, Prescott and Arkadelphia and were undefeated and unscored on until taken into camp by the Junior Bob Kittens.

The entire Kitten line played good hard football in stopping the Junior Scrappers' hard running, single wing formation. The Scrappers never threatened to score and didn't cross the midfield strip into Hope territory all night. The Kittens sported some new headgear and shoes which were recently purchased by the Hope Booster Club at a cost of about $400.

Man Suffers Attack in Jail and Dies

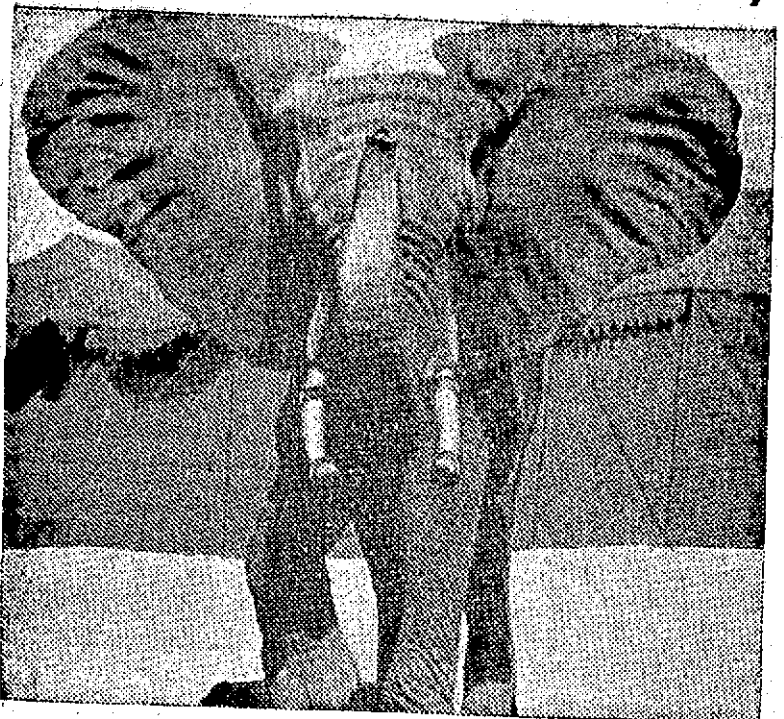

MEMPHIS (AP) — An Arkansas man died yesterday in a Memphis hospital after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday at the city jail.

Physicians said the hemorrhage apparently was brought on by a blow on the head. They said the blow was struck "approximately three weeks ago."

The dead man, John Thomas Winters, 63, of Blytheville, had been locked up for drunkenness. The director of a mission where he had been living said he had suffered three seizures within the past several days.

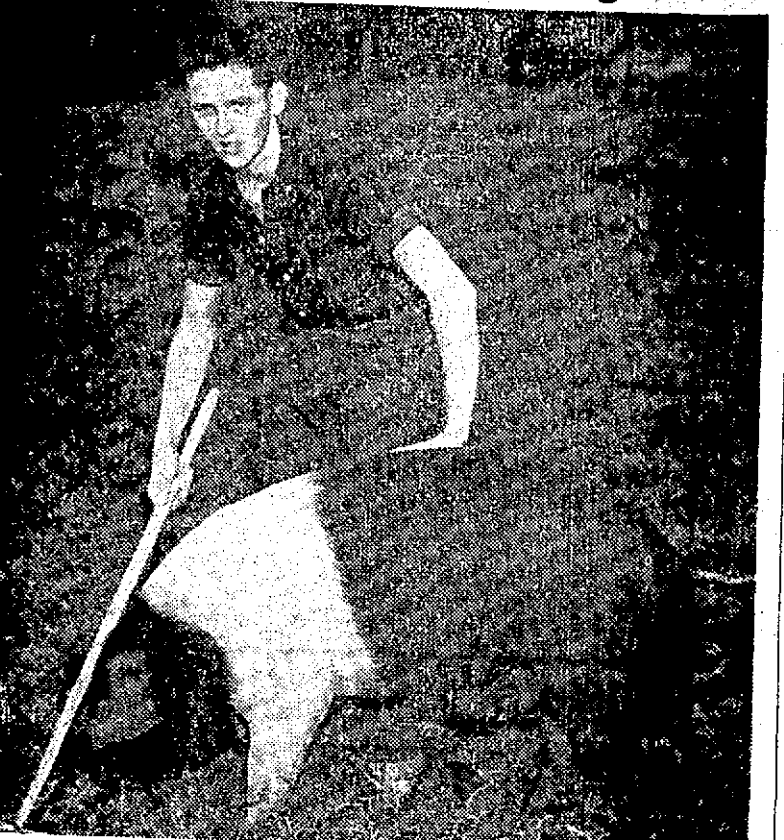

The chances of surviving a wound in the Civil War were 7 to 1, and in the Korean War, 30 to 1.

Going to 4-H Club Congress

IT TAKES A LOT OF HARD work and a lot of ability to be selected as a state winner in 4-H Club work. Imron Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown of the Sweet Home community, has attained this degree of prominence this year in winning honors as state champion in Farm Management. Imron will receive special recognition at the annual state 4-H Club Congress in Little Rock, November 12 and 13. He will also receive an expense paid trip to Chicago November 29 to December 3, 1959, to attend the National 4-H Club Congress. He is pictured above with his champion Hampshire board.

Picks Bobcats to Eke Out Win Friday

By WICK TEMPLE

Associated Press Staff Writer

The scramble for the top in the Big Nine Conference should thin out a bit tomorrow night when four of the five leaders play each other.

But don't bet on it.

So far the only certain thing about the Big Nine is its uncertainty. And it's that way down through most of the Class AA races, too.

Only Forrest City, Catholic High and Smackover have managed to retain pre-season ratings as AA dependables.

In the Big Nine almost nobody is dependable. For instance, take this triangle: El Dorado beat Fort Smith, Fort Smith beat Pine Bluff and Pine Bluff beat El Dorado.

The Arkansas Sports Writers Assn. shifted allegiance from El Dorado to Fort Smith this week for top position in their weekly poll. The Grizzlies, who got six of seven first place votes, will be a solid favorite in their game with Blytheville tomorrow night at Fort Smith.

Pine Bluff is a slight favorite over Little Rock and Little Rock over Fort Smith. All four of those teams have lost only one league game.

There are no unbeaten clubs after Fort Smith beat Central last week and Pine Bluff trimmed El Dorado.

El Dorado is favored this week in its bout with Region 4AA titan Smackover.

Here's the forecast: Fort Smith 27, Blytheville 7. The Chicks must clear across the state. That and the big, tough Grizzlies probably would be too much for anybody.

Pine Bluff 20, Hall 12. The Zebras could be down but probably will be fired after the victory over El Dorado. Their offense, with Gordon Guest quarterbacking, looks better every week.

Central 19, Texarkana 14. The Razorbacks are fast and Mike Edwards is possibly one of the best fullbacks in the state. But Central is deep, tough and seared by the loss to Fort Smith. And the Tigers are at home.

North Little Rock 14, Hot Springs 0. North Little Rock had last week off and should be rested for the Trojans, losers in five straight.

El Dorado 20, Smackover 8. The Bucks could give the defending Big Nine champions a tough evening and the margin of victory may not be this wide.

In Region 1AA: Fayetteville 19, Central of Springfield, Mo. 13. The Bulldogs should be tuned in after that loss to Springfield last week.

Harrison 20, Bentonville 7. Rogers 13, Subiaco 7. Possibly have lost only one league game.

Conway 20, Malvern 14. A good one and almost a tossup. But Conway showed up well against Catholic High last week while Malvern was buried by the Rockets earlier in the season.

Morrilton 11, Atkins 0. Benton 20, Russellville 12. In Region 4AA: Magnolia 7, Arkadelphia 6. The nod goes to the Panthers on the strength of their upset victory over De Queen last week.

Injured Bobcats Travel Friday to Fairview

Hope's Bobcats, plagued by injuries and hampered by loss of practice time due to rainy weather, will not be in top shape for the Fairview Cardinal contest on Friday night at Camden.

Halfback Eddie King, Hopes' flashy broken field runner, is not expected to play due to a severely bruised right thigh while Terry Don Thurman, Hopes' big fullback, will only see limited duty due to a leg injury.

Ford Ward, Thurman's reliever, has been out for the last couple of weeks with a injury and Charles Dudley, sophomore fullback, will move up to spell Thurman in tomorrow night's game.

Coach Pierce said that weather conditions had slowed down the practice sessions and that with Thurman seeing only limited duty and with not much opportunity to practice for his replacement that the Cats would be in for a rough night.

Larry Arnett and Joe Duke are slated to fill in for King at the halfback post.

The Fairview Cardinals boast a won't lose record. They opened the season by defeating their cross town rivals the Camden Panthers, then lost to Smackover in a hard fought contest 19-6; beat Monticello 13 to 12 and dropped two 6 to 0 decisions to Gurdon and Arkadelphia.

Coach Pierce indicated that the record didn't stand for much when the Cardinals and Cats get together, especially at Fairview. "They have a good overall team, and we will really have to hustle to beat them," he said.

Outstanding players for Fairview so far have been Broadnax at end and two heavy backs, Carter, a 180 pound quarterback and Watson 190 pound fullback.

Of interest to local football fans was today's announcement by L. B. Tooley, manager of Radio Station KXAR, that Fairview school officials would not permit a radio broadcast of the game.

As usual the Bobcats will enter the Fairview game outweighed by 7 pounds per man in the line and 14 pounds per man in the backfield.

Fairview line averages 170 to 183 for the Cats and the Cardinal backfield tips an average of 169 as compared to 155 for the Bobcats.

Fairview starting lineup will be:

Name	Pos.	Wt.
J. Broadnax	LE	150

C. Broadnax	C	180
Tomlin	RG	155

Yerger Goes to Texarkana Friday Night

The Yerger High Tigers will motor to the Border City to meet the Washington High Lions of Texarkana, Ark. Friday night in another scramble to decide Big Nine superiority.

After a drastic setback in a game played under protest last week in Hot Springs where the Tigers were upset, Yerger will be trying to get back into the win column.

Yerger has been working on defensive tactics most of the time this week, with special emphasis on downfield blocking and pass defense.

The Tigers are in top physical condition or this Big Nine tilt. If no injuries are sustained between now and game time, Yerger should measure up to par. The Tigers' record is 3-1 over all and 2-1 in conference play.

The Tiger band and pep squad will accompany the team to Texarkana tomorrow night as well as an auto caravan made up of fans which will meet at Yerger High at 6:30 p.m. and leave as a group.

The best game in the state this week. Could go either way.

Springdale 6, Siloam Springs 0. In Region 2AA: Forrest City 32, Newport 13. On go the Mustangs with the district title just over the hill.

Man Granted Parole After 22 Years

THOMASON, Maine (AP) — Paul N. Dwyer, 40, who has served 22 years in prison for a murder he contends his father committed, was granted a parole today.

The State Board of Probation and Parole voted unanimously after an interview with Dwyer to release the South Paris man when conditions or requirements imposed by the state board have been met in full.

The board said it is not possible to indicate his exact date of release, from the Maine State Prison here.

Gov. Clinton A. Clauson and the Executive Council last week commuted Dwyer's life sentence for the 1937 slaying of Dr. James G. Littlefield to a shorter sentence of 28 years and 5 months.

With time off for good behavior, this would make him eligible for release next Monday.

Dwyer went to prison in 1937. A youth of 18, he was convicted of the strangling and bludgeoning of an elderly physician, Dr. James G. Littlefield, in Dwyer's home town of South Paris.

Dwyer pleaded innocent, then changed his plea to guilty and went to prison for life.

Months later, Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll was also brought to trial for Dr. Littlefield's murder.

Dwyer contended Carroll killed the old doctor because the latter knew of alleged incest between Carroll and his daughter Barbara. When Dr. Littlefield's wife began to suspect what happened to her husband, Carroll killed her, too, Dwyer told the court. No one has ever been charged in her slaying.

Chickens and Fish Featured in Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Supermarkets are making a big fuss over feathers and fish this week.

Many are pushing broilers, fryers and Rock Cornish hens as the week's best bargain. Those near the sea are putting extra low price tags on shrimp, scallops and other delicacies from the deep.

Heavy production of chickens has kept prices down for some time.

Rock Cornish hens, once in the luxury class, have been brought down to the bargain level with increasing frequency in recent years.

Supplies of shrimp and scallops are seasonally heavy, which accounts for their emphasis. But, haddock and swordfish also are featured in some places.

Bacon is the No. 1 attraction in some places, heading a list of pork buys including loins, chops and canned hams. Steak is marked down 3 to 6 cents in a few areas, while rib roast also is lower by 4 to 10 cents a pound, but only in scattered sections.

Bargains among vegetables are headed by potatoes and onions, although both staples edged a shade higher this week.

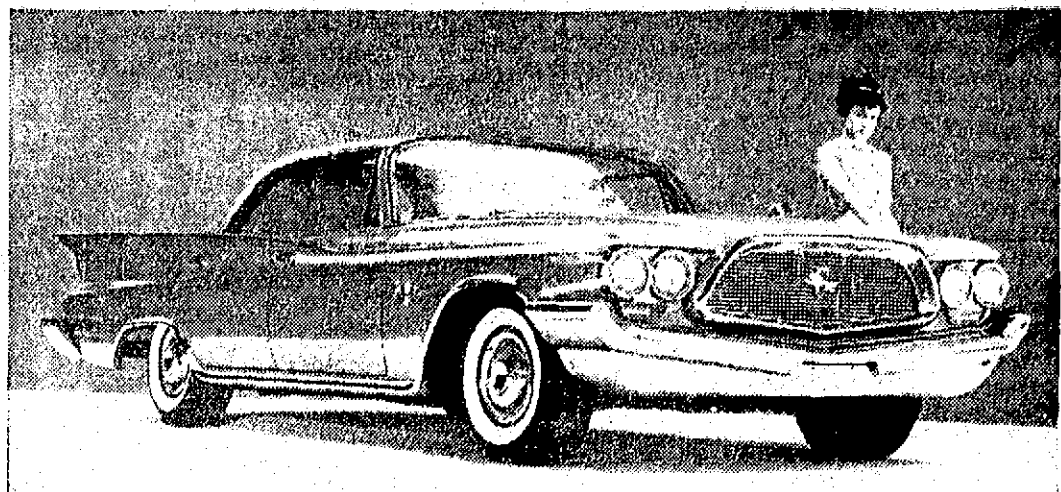

Other outstanding bargains include sweet potatoes, spinach, cooking greens, butternut or acorn squash and endive and escarole for salad lovers. You can get good buys, too, among snap beans, cauliflower, cucumbers, green onions, radishes, broccoli and all types of cabbage.

Recognizing the glut of apples especially from Eastern growing areas, the Department of Agriculture has designated today as the start of National Apple Week. McIntosh, Jonathan and Stayman varieties that are especially cheap among the numerous bargain varieties.

Limes, bananas and pears also are rated as outstanding fruit bargains.

David O. Dodd was executed as a Confederate spy in Little Rock, January 8, 1864.

Communists Change Line of Attack

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. propaganda chief George V. Allen said today the Communists have changed their line of attack against capitalism because of what Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev discovered on his trip to the United States.

Allen, head of the U. S. Information Agency, said the Communists now admit capitalistic production is abundant—but wasteful.

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Public Relations Society of America, Allen said: "I don't know whether Mr. Khrushchev liked what he saw in the United States or not. But in the future, it won't be quite as easy for him to believe some of the nonsense about America projected to the world by his own propaganda mechanism."

"Soviet propaganda has held that under American capitalism, the poor were constantly getting poorer. Since the Khrushchev visit this line already has changed."

"Now, Moscow admits that capitalism produces an abundance for the masses. The trouble with capitalism, we are now told, is that it is wasteful—that socialist planning will also bring abundance, but with less waste of effort and of natural resources."

"What Khrushchev and his companions saw for themselves in America seems to have already exploded some of their preconceived notions about this country."

of their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert O'Dell of Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Parks Sr. of Lewisville.

Mrs. Anna Judson returned from Dallas, Texas Monday where she had been visiting her grandmother Mrs. Ray C. Adams.

Mrs. W. H. Glover of Malvern visited her mother, Mrs. Dorsey McRae, Sr., over the past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Duckett, Sr., went to Waco, Tex., this weekend for the U. of A - Baylor football game. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Whitten.

Among the Arkansas fans at the ball game in Waco, Tex., last Saturday was Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson.

12 Nations Open Talks on Antarctic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of 12 nations open an antarctic conference today to negotiate a treaty which could bar military armaments and installations from the vast frozen continent around the South Pole.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was scheduled to welcome the conference delegates.

President Eisenhower initiated the antarctic treaty project last year with a proposal that all countries directly interested in the south polar region should negotiate in accord to minimize international friction there, assure cooperation, scientific research and exploration, and dedicate the region to peaceful purposes.

The 12 nations now meeting here include the Soviet Union along with the United States, Britain

GOP Plans a Sweeping New Tax Program

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican study committee today presented a sweeping plan en-visioning a gross national product of 900 billion dollars a year by 1967.
It recommended a manufacturer's sales tax and reduction of individual and corporate income taxes.
The tax cuts would come only after a start is made toward reducing the huge federal debt. They would be modest at first. They would be applied "as rapidly over the next few years as the prospective surplus will permit."

For the long run, the committee proposed substantially reduced taxes and more equitable distribution of the tax burden.
The 10,000-word report on "Economic Opportunity and Progress" was the fifth and final document approved by a 40-member committee headed by Charles H. Percy, Chicago businessman. The group was named to outline long-range GOP goals.
The final report was drawn up by a 14-member group headed by Gabriel Hauge, former economic assistant to President Eisenhower and now a New York financier.

Other reports dealt with science, national security and peace, and human rights and needs.
The economic report said sensible management of the public debt, combined with tax reform, an effective monetary policy and strict control over federal expenditures "will do much to help maintain a dependable currency and a steady rate of economic progress."
Thirty-five percent of the patients in the Arkansas State Hospital for Nervous Diseases could be sent home earlier if there were local clinics which had follow-up treatment available.

160 School Districts in Expansions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — More than 160 Arkansas school districts have qualified projects in curriculum expansion under the National Defense Education Act. Hundreds more are preparing to submit projects for qualification.
The school districts are seeking part of a 112 million dollar appropriation set up by Congress in 1958 for improving science, mathematics and foreign language departments in the nation's schools.

J. H. Wasson, director of supervision in the Division of Instructional Services of the state Education Department, said yesterday that probably all Arkansas school districts will someday take part in the plan.
The Education Department has set up entitlements for all schools in the state, distributing the money equally. If a school district does not use its share, the money will be reapportioned at the end of the year among schools desiring to use it.
First major apportionment of funds will be made Jan. 14. Payments will be made each Jan. 15 and June 15 thereafter.
Wasson said most of the expan-

Fresh Purple Plums Are Here Again

Reach for a plum—a Purple Plum that is—to thin-slice onto the breakfast cereal, to lure laggard morning appetites from atop a spicy, hot coffee cake. For Idaho's fresh purple plums (Italian plums) are here again, to add their tempting beauty and tangy-sweet flavor to a month of Better Breakfasting.

But don't stop with breakfast. Enjoy this unusual fruit out of hand for pleasant munching, out of dish for delightful desserts, out of oven in pies, cobbblers, up-side-down cakes, fruited nut loaves, and in easy-to-make quick breads such as this:

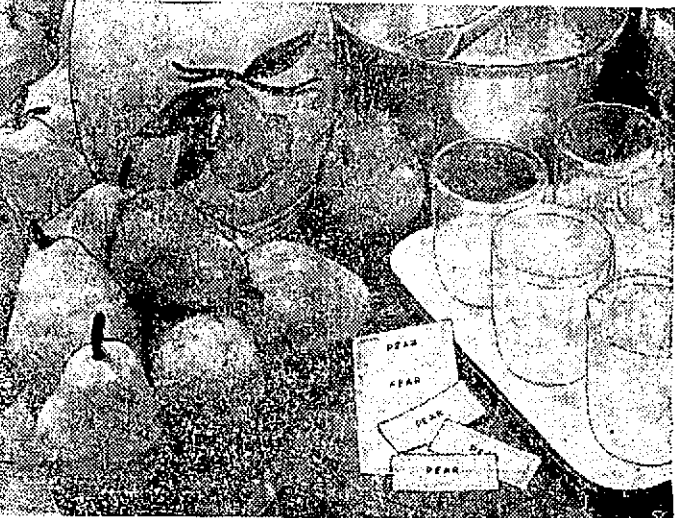

Purple Plum Tuckaway Cake
 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 4 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup granulated sugar
 4 tablespoons shortening
 1 egg, well-beaten
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 cup orange juice
 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind

Sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening until like grains of rice. Add liquid and orange rind to well-beaten egg. Carefully stir into mixture, but do not beat. Scrape into greased baking pan about 9-inches square or an equivalent-size oblong pan, smoothing top.

Topping
 Idaho fresh purple plums, 10 or more
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup flour
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 cup soft butter

Cut plums in half and remove seed, easy to do, as this is a free-stone fruit. Arrange halves in rows atop the batter. Mix together other ingredients, using a fork. Sprinkle crumbly mixture over top of plums and batter. Bake at 375 degrees F. (a quick moderate oven) about 35 minutes. Serve piping hot with plenty of butter. Amount—8 or more servings, depending upon size squares cut.

Jam Is Magic For Table And Lunches

To have delicious homemade pear jam on the table all winter long, you must make it now. Make it, of course, the quick, short-boil way with powdered fruit pectin. Here's the easy recipe.

Pear Jam
 Yield: about 9 medium glasses (4-1/2 lbs. jam)
 4 cups prepared fruit (about 3 lbs. ripe pears)
 5 cups (2-1/4 oz.) powdered fruit pectin
 1 box (1-3/4 oz.) sugar

First, prepare the fruit. Peel and core about 3 pounds fully ripe pears. Chop very fine or grind. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan.

Then make the jam. Measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with 1/8 inch hot paraffin. If jars are used, seal.

No Special Effort to Catch Russia

By BEM PRICE

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Project Saturn key to the United States' big leap into space, has been barely rocking along on a 40-hour, keep-down-the-overtime week.

If Saturn's progress at Redstone Arsenal here is any test, interviews with its top missilemen indicate the United States seems to be making little extra effort to overtake the Soviets in the space race.

A decision is expected this week on whether the Saturn project will be transferred to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Earlier there had been indications the space program would be turned over to the Air Force.

Under whatever auspices the Saturn development is expected to continue, informed Washington sources say. But the pace so far hardly has been breakneck.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, commander of the Army Ordnance Missile Command here, says: "At present, plans based on the present budget plus what appears to be the probable budget for next year do not support the Saturn program at the seed at which it could be developed. We are not talking billions of dollars, either. We are talking millions."

Making no bones that he's boiling over what he considers the lag in the nation's space program, Medaris says: "The basic problem is simple. There must be a positive decision. Are we or are we not going to compete with the Russians? If we are, there has to be a solid, well-financed program. Right now we are straddling the issue."

These facts were gleaned in a series of interviews with Redstone Arsenal sources.

Project Saturn funds suffered an unannounced cut of nearly 40 per cent this year by the Defense Department—from 135 million dollars to 70 million. The cutback already has resulted in a seven-month to one-year stretch-out in the original development program.

The announced objective of Project Saturn was to provide an "efficient and reliable system for lifting multi-ton loads into high orbit around the earth and deep into space" by 1962-63.

ALGIERS (AP)—A terrorist bomb exploded in the crowded Algiers railway station today, injuring 17 persons.

Another bomb was defused before it could go off.

The bomb which exploded was hidden in a suitcase placed near a ticket window.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—A U.N. committee left by plane today on the first leg of a return trip to New York after investigating Laos charges of aggression from Communist North Viet Nam.

Findings of the committee during its month's study remained secret. But Shiroishi Shibusawa, Japanese chairman of the four-nation commission, said it contains "no judgments" on the Laotian trouble.

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's largest newspaper charged today that the United States is trying to peddle jet fighters to underdeveloped countries to sustain its declining aircraft industry.

Noting that America itself is converting from manned planes to guided missiles, Asahi Shimbun declared in its opinion column: "In this day and age, when a rocket has landed on the moon and another has made a trip to the other side of the moon and is coming back, the idea of Japan being protected by these jet fighters is a mockery of the times."

PANAMA (AP)—One of Pan-Am's planes was scheduled to meet that schedule.

The project was announced in Washington Sept. 12, 1958. It proposed construction of a 1 1/2 million pound thrust rocket engine, or booster.

On Feb. 12, 1959, the Advanced Research Projects Agency said in a news release the "Saturn program is progressing at an accelerated rate. In a booster is expected to be test flown in 1960."

In July, the Defense Department announced, "The Saturn test vehicle will be delivered to the test lab at Huntsville in November and the first static testing is due in December."

The July announcement said the test tower would be completed by Sept. 1. It wasn't. It won't be ready for weeks.

While the engines for the 1 1/2 million-pound thrust rocket have been delivered, the fuel tanks for the super booster have not been completed. In fact, the fabrication laboratory schedule does not even call for the assembly of the largest of fuel tanks until the end of this month.

Datus Sutton was annoyed. He often was wherever it became necessary to mingle with the outside world — "the herd," as he scornfully referred to them. Datus Sutton was an aristocrat, both by descent and by choice. Sutton had reached adulthood in 1930, to discover that his family's money had its limits. After all, although his knowledge of the arts was considerable and respected, it was not a marketable commodity in those depression times. Until the day he was approached by a group which was anxious to have a particular painting certified as genuine—and he was paid well as lie. Quite suddenly, an entire new career opened up for him, the illicit traffic in works of art.

He was not bothered by the knowledge that he had been under surveillance the past few days. He was accustomed to this, ever since the diamond smuggling affair during the war, and had arranged several devious ways to evade it, one of which he had used this afternoon. Rather, Datus Sutton was annoyed by something which has proved an irritation to others less aristocratic: the traffic.

A few miles above Oceanside, he was forced to stop altogether, the last in a line of a dozen automobiles. A battered sedan stood athwart the highway, effectively blocking traffic.

Abruptly, he lost patience. He swung open his door and stalked down the row of waiting cars to the offending sedan.

"You're blocking the way," Sutton told the driver.

"No fooling?" the other man went back to prying at the bumper. From the sedan, a child laughed. He was only one of a half dozen passengers, most of them youngsters. Several suitcases were lashed to the sedan's roof.

"I'll have to insist you get out of my way," he said. "I'm in a hurry."

"I'm doing my best, buster," Sutton reached for his wallet. To be rid of you I'm willing to buy your car on the spot. I think $100 is a generous price, considering its condition."

"You crazy or something? I ain't about to sell my car. Didn't you hear what the Russians are going to do? Shoot rockets at us full of disease germs!"

"Listen to me, you stupid hill-billy," Sutton began furiously. "I emphasize my words, he drove his finger threateningly into the other man's chest."

It was a mistake but Datus Sutton had never learned how to deal with "the herd." The driver of the sedan took his gesture of emphasis to be a blow and he replied in kind. The hand that held the wire iron lashed out. The steel bar struck Sutton across the ear, cracking his skull. He fell into the ditch beside the highway. All the frightened passengers of the sedan's occupants did not revive him. By the time the police finally arrived, Datus Sutton was dead.

Cloris slithered down the muddy slope, oblivious in pitfalls, risking anything to reach the overturned jeep. She was groping with apprehension, fearful of what she might find, and she called Mallory's name over and over.

"Cloris? Is that you?" "Ross? She fell on her knees beside the vehicle, peering into the upside down interior. "Are you hurt, darling?"

"I'm okay," He sounded strong. "I'm pinned under this steering wheel. Can't get loose with just one arm."

"Everything's all right now. I'll help you." She began to shove at the jeep's chassis.

"There's a rope in the back. Fasten it onto your car and you should be able to pull this one over, at least enough so I can wiggle out. Use reverse gear."

"All right," She paused and bent down as close to him as she could get. "Darling, I love you."

"Me, too. BEEP your horn when you're ready to pull."

She found the rope, attached it to the far side of the overturned jeep and then scrambled up the bank to her own vehicle. She fastened the other end of the rope to the front bumper and got behind the steering wheel. The angle made it impossible for her to see into the ravine—like a fisherman playing a line, she was uncertain of what was happening in the depths. She punched the horn button and put the gear shift into reverse. The wheels spun in the mud. Gradually, inch by inch, the little car moved backward until all at once, the line went slack. She heard a shout of triumph from the gully. When she ran to the top of the bank, she could see Mallory's jeep lying now on its side.

Mallory was attempting to stand upright, wincing. Cloris scrambled down to him. "Easy on the right side," he said. "Feels like I bent a couple of ribs or something."

"How did it happen?" "My own fool fault. I drove straight into an ambush. The truck was waiting for me just over the hill. I ran me off into the ditch."

"Then you were right. They did come this way."

He chuckled bitterly. "I'm living proof of it."

"Funny I didn't run into the truck, too. Lucky I mean. If I'd come the same way you did..." Cloris explained her route, the intersecting road she had used as a short cut. "I guess the truck had already passed the cross-street by the time I got there."

"That means it's between there and the border. The truck isn't coming, is it? We've still got a chance to catch it."

Van Doren to Take Subpoena to Testify

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles

Van Doren today accepted service of a subpoena demanding that he testify Nov. 2 in a congressional probe into fixed TV quiz shows.

Marshall Thomas J. Lunnery told newsmen the $129,000 quiz winner's attorney, Carl J. Rubin, had promised to arrange a time and place for serving the document.

Lunnery smilingly greeted a corps of newsmen at his office with the remark: "Where's Charley?"

Then he said he and the attorney had conversed.

Lunnery said he personally would serve the subpoena, calling upon Van Doren to testify Nov. 2. Subpoenas ordinarily are served by deputies.

Van Doren arrived here Tuesday after a weekend in New England amid a furor over his whereabouts. The investigating subcommittee's chairman, Rep. Owen Harris (D-Ark), has charged he ducked the subpoena. It was delivered to federal authorities here Tuesday.

The subpoena presumably calls for Van Doren's appearance before the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee Nov. 2, when the inquiry now in recess, will resume.

Van Doren's lawyer, Carl J. Rubin, said the young TV personality would accept the subpoena as soon as its delivery can be arranged. Rubin said Van Doren had just learned about the subpoena.

"He could not evade a subpoena which he did not know had been issued," Rubin declared.

Van Doren, a Columbia University English instructor, dropped out of sight last week's subcommittee first subpoena in Washington.

The National Broadband suspended him from a four-year consultant's job because of the investigation.

money on NBC's "Truth" quiz show in 1956-57.

Rubin said: "He thought of evading and just became distressed and took him off the air last Thursday. He was and just went off. He came last night and I told allegedly there was a subpoena for him. I heard it over."

Van Doren, member of a distinguished literary family, a weekend in New England, he said. He visited his home near Cornwall, N.Y., his father Mark Van Doren.

The son had obtained a leave of absence from his post.

Shorts Hurt Strip Tease Business

By WHITEY SAWYER

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Do girls in short shorts and tight halters among the spectators hurt the strip show business?

"I think so," says Lynne Browne, a dancer. "A free show is always best."

"Of course not," says stripper Antonee Young. "They come to see me dance. It's the illusion. Illusion is always better than bare facts anyway."

Do show girls wear short shorts? "Very seldom in public," Lynne, 19, of New Orleans replied. "I feel like everybody is staring at me. The street is no place for anything to show."

Antonee, of Pascagoula, Miss., also avoids short shorts. "I highly disapprove of immodest wear and I wouldn't think of walking in a supermarket with short shorts on."

Both girls work in a traveling strip show appearing on the State Fair Midway here. But while they agree that girls shouldn't wear short shorts in public, they disagree on whether brief clothing worn down the midway hurt the show business.

Lynne said "Sometimes when

Hays is Honorary Democrat Chairman

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Former Rep. Brooks Hays is listed among 28 honorary chairmen for the Democrats Harmony Dinner here Oct. 30.

So is Rep. Dale Alford, who beat Hays in the general election last November as a write-in candidate. Likewise Gov. Orval E. Faubus is an honorary chairman along with Arkansas' four living former governors, all but one of whom opposed Faubus for another term last year.

It's apparently part of the avowed effort to have Democrats of all persuasions present at the dinner at which House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Democratic Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri will speak.

Names of the honorary chairmen are all listed alphabetically starting with former Gov. Honier

To Serve With Pride!

Ten-time in the Fall is a time to share the delights of the season: plans for parties, club meetings and ideas for entertaining. And, the lucky people who share your cozy cup of tea will want to share your recipe for these wonderful, moist, chewy cookie bars with the delicious orange frosting!

Frosted Walnut Bars

1 cup sifted flour 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine 1 cup chopped California walnuts
2 eggs, slightly beaten 1/2 cup angel flake coconut
1 1/2 cups firmly packed brown sugar 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla 1 to 2 tablespoons orange juice
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon soda

Measure 1 cup sifted flour into mixing bowl. Cut in butter until mixture is the consistency of corn meal. Press firmly into bottom of 12x7x2-inch baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 10 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Meanwhile, mix eggs, brown sugar, and vanilla until well blended. Add 2 tablespoons flour, the soda, and salt. Add nuts and coconut and mix well. Spread over the baked layer. Return to oven and bake 20 minutes longer. Cool.

Combine confectioners' sugar and enough orange juice to make a glaze of spreading consistency. Spread over the baked mixture. When glaze has hardened, cut into rectangles. Makes 24 bars.

Meal Planners' Delight—Chicken

Move the favorite Chicken Barbecue indoors for meal ease. Barbecued Chicken atop snowy rice and red beans—a flavorful "2" in the broiler. Hearty satisfaction for Fall appetites! Easy, different, economical! Serve with crisp green salad and beverage.

2 broiler-fryers, about 2 1/2 lb. split lengthwise
3 cups cooked rice (1 cup uncooked) 1 can (1 lb.) red beans, drained

Sauce:
3/4 cup butter or margarine, 2 1/2 tablespoons salt
1 cup white vinegar 1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
1/2 teaspoon cayenne

Place chicken in bottom of broiler pan. (do not use rack), skin side down. Hook wing tips onto back behind shoulder joint to expose thick meat to heat. Meanwhile blend Sauce ingredients and heat to simmering. Brush chicken with hot Sauce. Place pan 7 to 9 inches from heat. (Regulate distance or heat so that chicken just begins to brown after 15 minutes.) Broil, turning after 15 minutes. Baste frequently with the hot Sauce. Turn occasionally to cook and brown evenly. Total cooking time—about 1 hour.

When chicken is almost done, set it aside, pour off juices and reserve for serving at table. Combine cooked rice and beans and spread in broiler pan. Place chicken atop rice and beans. Continue broiling and basting with Sauce until chicken is well done. (Leg bone twists readily in thigh joint. Test wing joint the same way.) Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Champagne Lady Makes Big Break

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Alice Lon makes the big break tonight.

The former Champagne Lady of the Lawrence Welk television show starts a two-week engagement at the Cocomat Grove.

"I've spent every cent I have in the world for the act," she said Tuesday.

Miss Lon, who broke with Welk last July, supports three young sons. She said she has turned down several offers because she wanted to prepare a solid act.

Four Killed in Texas Air Crash

BOERNE, Tex. (AP)—A single-engine Army liaison plane plummeted to earth Tuesday, killing all four occupants.

The Army withheld the names of the dead.

The airplane was an L-20 on a cross-country instrument training flight out of Ft. Rucker, Ala. It was en route from Dyess AFB at Abilene, Tex., to Ft. San Houston in San Antonio when it crashed.

We're out here trying to attract a crowd, a young man will walk by and the attention will fade.

Antonee felt girls on the Midway often "wear less clothes than I do."

"But," she added, "it's when I do that they do. That the customers come to see."

She bills her specialty as an "Arabian exotic dance."

"I stand on my head and do a lot of tricks," she said. "That's why I'm known as the 'upside down girl.'"

Mobile Women Beat the Spike Heel Law

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Spike-heels are illegal in Mobile but a way is provided for women to wear them without breaking the law.

Women will be given a permit which will relieve the city of responsibility in any accidents resulting from falls on city streets and sidewalks. The free permit would apply for all spike heels a woman owns.

An ordinance adopted by the city commission bans spike heels higher than 1 1/2 inches which are less than an inch in diameter.

The ordinance was proposed last week after the commission was told that about 30 dangerous falls had been filed against the city during the past two years by women who had fallen on streets and sidewalks.

Negro Youths Up on Perjury Charge

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Three Negro boys were arrested and charged with perjury yesterday after testimony at the murder trial of Fred Hunter.

The three youths, 16, 17, and 18, were charged with giving false testimony during a preliminary hearing in the trial.

Judge Paul W. White said he believed the boys were lying because they were in the witness stand and their backs were to the jury. The boys were held in county jail.
